PASTORS PONDERINGS

Dear Parishioners,

Following the lead of the previous Sunday, we are invited today us to continue to reflect Jesus' role in our faith in terms of metaphors.

If last Sunday, Jesus invited us to look upon him as "the Good Shepherd who lays down his life for his sheep," this Sunday we are reminded by Jesus that "[he is] the vine and [we are] the branches."

The point being made here is that our ultimate value depends on being connected to Jesus.

After some time of reflection, most of us can ascertain that vast majority of us will probably not be remembered will not be remembered 100 years from now.

And many who are remembered – Adolf Hitler, Al Capone, come to mind -- would probably wish that they weren't.

Yet, in as much as we are part of the Church we remain remembered here.

During these past few years, I've been working with others in my family on our family tree. It has not been lost to us that most of what we know about our ancestors comes from parish registers – baptisms, marriages, funerals. And even though we have a good chance to carrying our family tree back to the decades following the Council of Trent when those registers first started to be mandatory, our family lineages will end there.

It has not been lost to me that via the Servites, my spiritual lineage with them can go back all the way to the decades around 1233 which is the birth of the Order.

In the larger Church, when we celebrate Mass, we pray prayers that go back to the early centuries of the Church. The Scriptures that we proclaim and reflect on go back the beginnings of the Israelite people and their reflections on their ancestors in Abraham and Sarah, Isaac and Rebekah, Jacob and Rachel / Leah.

The furthest back that we can go is through the Church, and the stories we hear proclaimed and the Mass we celebrate are essentially the same ones that our physical and certainly spiritual ancestors have heard for thousands of years.

Yes, we are part of a very old vine!

-- Fr. Dennis

PENSAMIENTOS DE NUESTRO PARROCO

Queridos feligreses,

Siguiendo el ejemplo del domingo anterior, hoy estamos invitados a seguir reflejando el papel de Jesús en nuestra fe en términos de metáforas.

Si el domingo pasado Jesús nos invitó a entenderlo como "el Buen Pastor que da su vida por sus ovejas", este Domingo Jesús nos recuerda que "[él es] la vid y [nosotros somos] los sarmientos".

El punto que se destaca aquí es que nuestro valor máximo depende de estar conectados con Jesús.

Después de un tiempo de reflexión, la mayoría de nosotros podemos comprobar que la gran mayoría de nosotros probablemente no seremos recordados dentro de 100 años.

Y muchos de los que son recordados (me vienen a la mente Adolf Hitler, Al Capone) probablemente desearían que no lo fueran.

Sin embargo, en la medida en que somos parte de la Iglesia, aquí seguimos siendo recordados.

Durante estos últimos años, he estado trabajando con otros miembros de mi familia en nuestro árbol genealógico. No se nos ha escapado que la mayor parte de lo que sabemos sobre nuestros antepasados proviene de los registros parroquiales: bautismos, matrimonios, funerales. Y aunque tenemos una buena oportunidad de llevar nuestro árbol genealógico a las décadas posteriores al Concilio de Trento, cuando esos registros comenzaron a ser obligatorios, nuestros linajes familiares terminarán allí.

No se me ha escapado que a través de los Servitas, mi linaje espiritual con ellos puede remontarse hasta las décadas alrededor de 1233, que es el nacimiento de la Orden.

En la Iglesia en general, cuando celebramos Misa, rezamos oraciones que vienen de los primeros siglos de la Iglesia. Las Escrituras que proclamamos y reflexionamos llegan de los inicios del pueblo israelita y sus reflexiones sobre sus antepasados en Abraham y Sara, Isaac y Rebeca, Jacob y Raquel/Lea.

Lo más lejos que podemos retroceder es a través de la Iglesia, y las historias que escuchamos proclamadas y la Misa que celebramos son esencialmente las mismas que nuestros antepasados físicos y ciertamente espirituales han escuchado durante miles de años.

¡Sí, somos parte de una vid muy antigua!

-- p. Dennis
